Description

Antique patinated bronze sculpture signed "Louis Moreau" resting on a red Levanto marble base. The sculpture depicts the Nymph of the Woods and is a captivating representation of the mythical wood nymph of ancient legend, created by Louis Moreau, one of the extraordinary members of the Moreau family who dominated the world of sculpture in the second half of the 19th century and the early 20th century in Paris. The young woman is depicted in a joyful pose, surrounded by plant and bird elements, and rests on a base also made of plant elements. The figure, draped around her hips, is in a sensual and contemplative pose. Her body is supple, slender, and beautifully modeled with anatomical care and naturalistic detail. Condition: Good. Dimensions: Diameter 30cm. Height 85cm. Document: Certificate of
