Description

This walnut veneer and marquetry corner cabinet, dating from the Art Deco period of the 1930s, is a rare and original piece. This piece of furniture, characterized by its geometric lines and cut sides, opens with two doors at the top and two doors at the bottom. The fronts are inlaid with burr walnut, alternating with horizontal and vertical arrangements and shades of different shades. Each of the doors is decorated with square handles. Upon opening, we discover an adjustable shelf on a rack in each element, top and bottom. In the center, a free space has a triangular top with cut sides and a walnut veneer back arranged like an open book. This piece of furniture rests on gadrooned olive legs.Period: 1930Excellent conditionVarnished finishDelivery possible in France and
