Description

Handsome Pair of Late 19th Century Elm Seated High Stools This beautifully matched pair of late 19th century antique tall shaped stools combines rustic charm with practical comfort. A most comfortable elm seat high stool raised on square legs with joining stretchers with peg joinery. Featuring a wonderfully contoured shaped seat, it offers both style and support. Made from solid wood with a rich patina, these stools are a timeless addition to any interior, whether placed at a bar, counter, or high table. In sturdy condition. Circa 1890.
