Description

Wonderful Pair of English Cast Iron Tazza Urns or Planters This attractive pair of English cast iron tazza urns or planters offers timeless style and versatility, perfect for both indoor and outdoor settings. Each urn features a wide, ruffled rim and beautifully gadrooned body, resting on a classic square plinth base. They retain their original white paint, showing age-related wear and a stunning patina that adds character and authenticity. These urns are in untouched original condition. Whether placed in a garden, on a terrace, or as a striking feature indoors, these urns are a beautiful example of English craftsmanship from the late 19th century and their elegant shape and weathered finish will complement a variety of design schemes.
