Description

Amusing and opulent Napoleon III upholstered armchair, with the back and armrests covered with a boudin encircled with a rope and in thick brocaded old gold fabric, this piece of furniture with black lacquered spinning top feet is upholstered at its base around the edge with a beautiful fringe with pompoms. Comfortable all upholstered, this Second Empire lounge chair has its original fabric (honorable condition for a fabric of this period..). This type of low armchair invites you to relax and is absolutely comfortable, its line and its allure make this seat a bourgeois and assumed element as loved by Madeleine Castaing who knew how to give this type of furniture the place it deserves; the small wear and tear on the back do not alter the singularity and comfort of this seat... Still solid and to use near
