Description

Superb covered vegetable dish from Maison Haviland, Empress Eugenie Collection. The decoration of this collection was created by the designer Léonce Ribi re for Empress Eugenie. Haviland interprets it in an eponymous dinner service of infinite delicacy. A crown of violets recalls the sovereign's taste for flowers and for the shades of blue, mauve and purple present in her toilets. The composition of the decoration embodies the Second Empire style, while the spiraling violet stems prefigure Art Nouveau. 21 cm. Near new condition, some micro scratches. Mark on the back.
