Description

Superb porcelain vase with ram heads from the Sèvres factory. Origin France Period 1880 Style 18th century Louis XVI Model resting on a square base from which rises the body made up of a part in gilded enameled porcelain on a pink background and a large central frieze in biscuit porcelain depicting a scene of farandoles of angels. The upper part is composed of a frieze of foliage on a blue background. Very good condition, it should be noted that this vase must have had a lid which is missing but which does not detract from its decorative force. Height 31cm
