Description

Oil on panel.Signed lower right. Countersigned on the back.Dimensions: 51 cm x 62 cmBorn in 1928, Gaston-Luciano Faraoni, a painter from Florence, Tuscany, influenced by the Italian Impressionist, Macchiaiolo, draws inspiration from the landscape, capturing its bucolic atmosphere in a style of vivid realism. His application of color perfectly mimics natural textures. His brushstrokes are powerfully expressive and capture the characteristics of each form. Eschewing the traditional gliding brushstroke, which only creates an illusory texture, Faraoni's varied style contributes to the evolution of natural texture. With great luminosity and a pastel appearance to accurately render light hues and contrasts of light and shadow, Faraoni's brushwork is lively and
