

Baccarat Carafe, Rémy Martin Cognac, Louis XIII Style

150 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Crystal

Width : 17

Height : 27

Description

This is a mouth-blown clear crystal decanter, round and flat, with a narrow neck and matching stopper. The model is decorated with raised medallions representing fleurs-de-lis, as well as droplet decorations on the sides. An iconic bottle from the house of Rémy Martin for its "Louis XIII" cognac, originally created by Baccarat in the late 19th century. The bottle is signed acid-etched under the base.

Dealer

MUSE

Art et décoration objets anciens

Mobile : 0638811732

Rosheim 67560