Description

Surrealism - Symbolist Art Dimensions: 60 x 50.5 cm Without frame: 55.5 x 46 cm Walter Lewy (1905-1995, Dortmund, Germany) was a German-born Brazilian painter and illustrator, best known for his surrealist and symbolic visual language. Forced to flee Nazi persecution, he emigrated to São Paulo in 1938, where he developed a rich body of work that blended dreamlike imagery, spiritual connotations, and botanical references. A self-taught artist, Lewy produced paintings, drawings, and graphic works often featuring fantastical figures, anthropomorphic forms, and abstract landscapes. His early training in lithography and illustration influenced the precision of his compositions. In Brazil, he participated in major exhibitions, including the São Paulo Biennials (1951, 1960,
