Description

France / 1920 / Pedestal / oak, marble / Art Deco
This high square Art Deco pedestal from the 1920s is a beautiful example of French craftsmanship. The top has a red and cream marble tile, contributing to its elegant appearance. The tall square column greek column with subtle wood inlay, creates a harmonious balance between top and foundation. The base consists of wooden cubes that form a square resting on four stepped feet. The rich burgundy finish, subtle inlay and classical column base make this piece a distinguished addition to any interior. Its substantial proportions and timeless but modern design reflect the sophisticated aesthetic of the Art Deco period, whilst offering practical surface space for display or everyday use. The sturdy wooden base provides exceptional stability,
