Description

Primavera (Printemps Art Workshop), Gustave Asch in Sainte-Radegonde. Art Deco vase decorated with blue waves on a glazed background. Signed "Primavera" and hatchet mark for Gustave ASCH. This vase, designed by Gustave Asch for Primavera, embodies the elegance and boldness of French design from the 1920s and 1930s. Gustave Asch, a renowned artist and ceramist, left his mark on his era with creations combining purity of line and richness of patterns, often inspired by nature and primitive arts. Primavera, the art workshop of the Printemps department store, was able to enhance his talent by producing unique pieces, where ceramics become an object of art in their own right. This vase, with its refined shapes and stylized decorations, reflects the Art Deco spirit:

a perfect balance between modernity and tradition. The deep colors and geometric or floral patterns, typical of the artist, make it an emblematic piece, both functional and sculptural. A sought-after collector's item, it testifies to the exceptional know-how of Primavera and the visionary creativity of Gustave Asch, who made his mark on the history of decorative arts.
