Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Wood marquetry

Description

This elegant and extremely rare Lombard chest of drawers from the late 18th century is crafted from walnut with rich and refined inlay decoration. The top and fronts feature complex geometric and figurative inlays crafted from precious woods such as maple, rosewood, and other rare woods, creating extraordinarily refined chromatic effects. The front features two large drawers decorated in the center with a circular reserve with classical motifs, while the upper section is adorned with friezes featuring winged figures and medallions. The corner pilasters and sides, also finely inlaid, complete the exquisiteness of the piece. The harmonious proportions, the quality of the carving, and the exceptional mastery of the art of inlay make this piece of furniture a highly rare and valuable
