Description

An elegant Lombard chest of drawers from the late 18th century, crafted from rosewood with refined maple inlays featuring floral and figurative motifs. The piece features three front drawers, the first of which is highlighted by a refined frieze of vegetal scrolls, while the two below are enriched with central medallions with inlaid figures. The sides, also decorated with inlaid scenes, lend the whole a harmonious, formal balance. The herringbone-veneered rosewood top highlights the exquisite materials and the masterful craftsmanship of Lombard cabinetmaking of the period. The elegant truncated pyramid legs, also inlaid, are distinctive, lending a sense of elegance and refinement to the structure. A piece of extraordinary quality, a testament to the high
