Description

Oil on canvas depicting a battle scene with horses and riders, painted by Eugène Courboin (La Fère 1851 - Paris 1925), a French illustrator and painter active between the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

The artist, who studied at the École des Beaux-Arts from around 1878, devoted his work to the academic and historical genres, with particular attention to detail and a refined style. His paintings range from historical and mythological scenes to genre subjects, reflecting the artistic trends of his time.

The large-scale canvas measures 132 × 196 cm, with decorative frame 146 × 210 cm. It is signed and dated lower right "Eug.

Courboin 1894". The composition shows a landscape with a group of riders in the foreground and another in the background. On the reverse, a stamp with a heraldic crest and two stamps bearing the number "120" are visible. The overall condition is good; the stretcher appears to have been replaced at a later date.
