Description

Extraordinary monumental antique Italiana wall lamp mounted with three 18th century golden candle holders with an octagonal section joined together by a central pin so as to form a group of torches that are placed against the wall and remain away from it in the upper part where a lamp holder powered by a external electric wire. The gilded parts have squares decorated with red and green aniline. In good condition, this unique Italian three-light sconce comes from a Milanese private collection. In the same collection we have selected two additional single candleholders mounted in the same way, same as those, but single.
