Description

750/°° white gold earrings (18 KT, owl hallmark) consisting of a round openwork pendant motif suspended from a jaseron chain, added, and removable, to a closed-set diamond stud base.

Fine and slender, these earrings offer great mobility, since the different elements are articulated and the chain flexible, for a beautiful fall and a beautiful movement when worn, which allows the diamonds to capture the light with all lightness. The openwork motifs are adorned in their centers by two larger old-cut diamonds while the chip diamonds are brilliant-cut. These earrings are worked around the aesthetic of the circle, and everything is round: the base of chips, on which the diamonds are bezel-set, just like a bezel-set edge defines the outline of the old-cut diamonds of the pendant motif. This motif is openworked with half-circles, circumscribed in a larger volume which is suspended from a jaseron chain, made of round links.... The openwork effect is therefore also omnipresent on this jewel, giving it an airy and refined design. These earrings are equipped with very secure alpa system clasps. The pendant, removable, allows these earrings to be worn in a simple chip version, embellished, according to desire, with their complementary motif for a more sophisticated result. Their mobility allows these long earrings to be worn easily.
