Description

Elegant carved wooden walking stick dating from around 1900, adorned with a finely crafted dog's head. Crafted from hardwood with a beautiful dark patina, it demonstrates the refined craftsmanship typical of the early 20th century. Measuring 84.5 cm long with a 4 cm head, this walking stick was not intended as a support, but was primarily an accessory, a symbol of elegance and distinction. A charming piece, ideal for collectors of antique walking sticks, lovers of animal sculptures, or period fashion accessories.
