Description

Doulton Burslem, Staffordshire, circa 1891. Pair of rare beaker-form porcelain vases on a three-dolphin base, ivory ground with hand-painted floral bouquets, gilt inner rims and stepped gilt bases. The crowned Doulton Burslem mark with circular monogram on both pieces places the set in the scarce pre-Royal Burslem period after the Prince of Wales appointment. Slight differences in size and weight confirm hand manufacture. A desirable early Doulton pairing combining elegant architecture, floral painting and rich gilding.
