

19th Century Victorian Period Mahogany Buffet

3 300 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Mahogany

Width : 125

Height : 146

Depth : 53

Description

Superb Quality 19th-Century Victorian Period Three-Tier Mahogany Dumb Waiter. A quality, 19th-century Victorian period, well-figured mahogany three-tier dumb waiter, server, or dinner wagon. The rectangular top is decorated with large turned finials over three galleried solid mahogany shelves, featuring baluster-turned supports, and raised on turned legs terminating in large brass and brown ceramic casters. In good original condition and dating from 1860. In terms of condition, this buffet or dumb waiter is in excellent original condition, boasting a rich patina on the solid mahogany, which speaks to its quality craftsmanship and the care it has received over the years. The figured mahogany exhibits a rich, warm patina, enhancing its visual appeal. This buffet is not only a testament to exceptional

Dealer

Anthony Short Antiques

18C & 19C Fine Period Antiques, Decorative Furniture & Works of Art

Tel : 00 44 7595603348

Mobile : 00 44 7595603348

Market Square

Petworth GU28 0AH

early Victorian craftsmanship but also a striking example of classic design, making it an ideal piece for any refined interior.