Description

Lucien Jacques Delettretz born in 1890 in Paris and died in 1956. Exhibitions at the G. Petit gallery and the Ecalles gallery between the wars. Beautiful and large watercolor on cardboard with an impressionist atmosphere of the village of Vert-Saint Denis, dated 1951. The commune of Vert-Saint-Denis is located in the department of Seine-et-Marne, in the Île-de-France region. A village full of history. The base of the church, the Saint-Pierre Church of Vert-Saint-Denis, whose bell tower base and capitals date from the 12th century. The rest, including the bell tower, were built in the 13th century. Renovations took place in the 16th century. No frame.
