Description

Very beautiful carved wooden bas-relief Carved wooden bas-relief, depicting soldiers of the First World War in uniform with Adrian helmet and typical equipment of the French army of that time. The scene illustrates a moment of urban or trench combat, with several wounded soldiers in action behind a partially destroyed wall. Very detailed bas-relief sculpture, with a good sense of movement and a very beautiful perspective. We can clearly distinguish "G. Grisly". French regional craftsman or sculptor active between 1920 and 1940, a period when many commemorative bas-reliefs of the Great War were produced. Weight: 5 KG
