Description

We present this delightful oil painting on canvas from the second half of the 19th century. The painting bears a barely legible signature in the lower right corner (see photo), possibly F. Holl. This painting is not authenticated. It is likely by an English painter. This is a painting of good artistic quality, clearly demonstrating the sensitivity of a 19th-century painter to the depiction of landscapes. The artist depicts a landscape devoid of figures, where nature is the sole protagonist. In the foreground, a river with vegetation reflects in the water. In the background, mountains partially covered by white clouds on a sunny day. The painting is in good condition (see all photos carefully) and has minor restorations to the color. Sold unframed. If you are fascinated by landscapes, this painting is
