grAbout fancy diamonds: Colored diamonds were first brought to light in the 1980s with the discovery of the Argyle mine in Australia in 1983. Over the years this mine has become the most important source of colored diamonds in the world. It is particularly renowned for its pink, champagne, cognac, violet and finally red diamonds, the rarest color. The Argyle mine closed permanently on November 3, 2020.
