Description

Seguso Vetri d'Arte
Extraordinary cascade chandelier composed of numerous polyhedral elements in Murano blown glass circa 1960h. approx. 90 cm
The structure features polyhedrons in transparent blown glass with characteristic wavy/grooved texture, arranged in cascade on multiple descending levels creating a play of light refraction through the numerous facets of the elements that compose the chandelier. This model represents the excellence of Murano production from the 1960s, characterized by: Formal elegance typical of Italian mid-century design
Artisanal mastery in glass blowing
Scenic effect given by the multiplication of elements
Transparency and visual lightness despite the important dimensions
The chandelier is in very good condition, with intact and transparent glass
