Description

Charming oil on cardboard signed RM Cadet, created in the 1950s-1960s, depicting a lively scene in the heart of Montmartre, one of the most emblematic districts of Paris. RM Cadet is part of the School of Paris artists, sensitive to the picturesque atmosphere of the capital and its lively street scenes. His works, often created on cardboard or panel, are sought after for their spontaneous touch, their luminous palette and their ability to capture the Parisian spirit of the post-war period. This painting perfectly evokes the bohemian and authentic atmosphere of Montmartre: typically Parisian light facades, a lively terrace with a red awning, bare trees and elegant silhouettes crossing each other in the square. The simple and effective composition, combined with soft light and a lively touch,
