Description

Pair of Art Deco period display cabinets, in brass or gilt bronze and limes oak veneer. 2 drawers with locks in the lower part and a glass part composed of 4 shelves each and a door with its key. The whole is in rather good condition, note a small lack of veneer on each of the display cabinets clearly visible in the photos. The bottom of the display cabinets is mirrored even if one of the bottoms has almost no more of its tin. It is possible to change it. These two display cabinets are very well built, perfectly stable and robust. I did not take the photos with the shelves but they are present.
