

Louis XV Period Walnut Sloping Desk Forming A Secretary

3 600 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Walnut

Length : 101 cm

Width : 51 cm

Height : 98 cm

Description

Very beautiful Louis XV period secretary in walnut, forming a sloping desk. Some also say donkey's back but this is not the correct terminology. Dating from the 2nd half of the 18th century, this sloping desk is the ideal size for working. It is made of a very beautiful walnut with a waxed patina of a beautiful blond honey color. A piece of furniture from the Rhône Valley. The sides are very nicely curved and highlight the undulations of the furniture that can be found on the front, the fretted flap as well as the crosspieces. It rests on 4 curved legs. The front has three drawers decorated with their antique bronze handles. A large drawer at the bottom and two smaller ones on the sides, they enclose a secret cache. The secretary part opens with a fretted flap onto an interior worked with

Dealer

Antoine Claeys - Maison du XVème
antiquaire généraliste

Mobile : 06 85 53 27 42

24 grande Rue

Nogent l'Artaud 02 310

multiple curved drawers. The interior of the flap is lined with embossed green leather gold.the felling is supported by a pair of original wrought iron compasses which allow to work without any problem, the flap is supported and can support a significant weight.the locks work.Inside a trapdoor which locks with a trick allows access to a secret compartment.furniture in excellent condition. Just a few small restorations of use and maintenance.a very beautiful walnut with a superb only waxed patina.a very decorative period desk and ideal for even with current constraints.dimensions:Length:101 cmHeight:98 cmDepth:51 cm We deliver and ship all over the world, please contact us for a precise quote.