Description

Moroccan silver and niello dagger - 19th century - MoroccoElegant traditional Moroccan dagger (koummya), richly decorated with silver and niello inlays. The curved steel blade, with a thick spine and a median ridge, fits into a finely chiseled silver scabbard, decorated with floral and geometric motifs in relief.Description The guard and handle feature particularly careful goldsmith work, enhanced with three square cabochons in set red glass, giving the whole a noble and ceremonial appearance. The patinated brass suspension rings allow it to be worn on the belt, in accordance with Maghrebi tradition. Chiseled silver, niello, brass and steel.Dimensions: 41 × 10 cmBeautiful complete example in good condition, with a beautiful old patina and slight traces of use on the bladeDo not hesitate to contact me for any
