Description

Meditation by the WaterA superb 20th-century oil on wood, this genre scene exudes a peaceful and intimate atmosphere. A young woman, dressed in a warm-toned dress, lies nonchalantly at the edge of a dock, seemingly lost in thought, facing the calm water and the elegant lines of a boat. The composition, both simple and refined, captures a suspended moment, imbued with gentleness and serenity. The mastery of the painterly touches and the subtle play of color reveal the sure hand of a talented artist, a renowned signature, that of Antonio Ferrigno. Born in 1863 in Naples, Antonio Ferrigno is an Italian painter renowned for his genre scenes and luminous landscapes. Trained at the Naples Academy of Fine Arts, he distinguished himself early on with his refined technique and a particular sensitivity to light. After a flourishing career in Italy, he also spent time in Brazil where he painted numerous rural and maritime scenes, becoming one of the major artistic witnesses of the daily life of the time. His style, combining elegant realism and chromatic delicacy, earned him great international recognition. Presented in a beautiful antique gilded frame, this work full of character will bring to any interior a note of artistic elegance and timeless authenticity, worthy of the finest collections.
