Description

Unique 19th century Spanish Toledo made Romantic dagger dated 1860's This dagger is in excellent condition and has beautiful casting and gilding. The figure is quite unique and not one I have seen before depicting a hunter. The blade is impressive and still has the original felt. The blade is double edged and still sharp with several fullers and impressive scroll work on the tips of the blade. The scabbard is in great condition and the dagger sits perfectly with no play. A rarely seen example or museum level. Specifications: Length 35
