Description

This magnificent sculptural lamp from the 1970s is a truly decorative piece. Made of gilded brass, it represents an elegant duck in full flight surrounded by stylized plant motifs, forming an airy and refined base. With a total height of 71 cm and a width of 23 cm (round base Ø 45 cm), this lamp is distinguished by the quality of its metalwork and its unique design, at the crossroads of Art Deco and Hollywood Regency styles. Its deep green lampshade with gold edging adds an extra touch of sophistication, creating an elegant contrast with the shine of the brass. Every detail is taken care of: the body of the bird has fluid and stylized lines, typical of the period, while the stone base provides beautiful stability to the whole. This lamp is not just a light fixture: it is a decorative work in its own right, perfect for
