Description

Pair of earrings in 750/°° yellow gold (18 KT, eagle's head hallmark), in sleeper pendant format, mainly adorned with two large coral drops. These are mounted in a balance within a luminous yellow gold circle, of the same shape and decorated around the edge with granulation, evoking antique jewelry... dating from the Napoleon III era, these earrings are thus representative of the marked taste of the time for neo-classical. Similarly, the fine pearls on the upper motifs are representative, with the brilliance and bluish and pinkish colors characteristic of this material. Although dating from the 19th century, these earrings, with their refined aesthetic, can be assimilated and worn with contemporary pieces. As old coral, the drops have characteristics such as small lacks of
