

Asymmetrical Tank Ring With Aquamarine And Diamond Paving In Rose Gold And Platinum

Description

Ring in 750/°° rose gold (18 KT, owl hallmark) and platinum (mascaron head hallmark) with a beautiful asymmetrical volume, typical of Tank rings from the 1940s. Very architectural, it is worked around the effect of roundness: an oval aquamarine responds to a domed gadroon, paved with 8/8 cut diamonds, while the profile of the ring is openworked with arabesques and round volutes. The diamonds are set with grains within white platinum, and the aquamarine, in a continuity effect, also offers a fresh and delicate color supported by beautiful crystallization, which gives a lot of luminosity to this jewel. Aquamarine is a rare stone on this type of ring. Like the Tank rings, this one is worked in contrasts: colored stone / diamonds, unique / and paving, rose gold / platinum, domed gadroon and
