Description

Imposing fireplace in reconstituted stone. Regency style with a pretty molded and ornamented lintel. The whole was dismantled and packaged on pallets. The jambs and the lintel are in perfect condition. Some stones (including the base and the cornice) cracked during dismantling, but the fractures are clean and clear. As this is reconstituted stone, any good mason will be able to easily repoint the cracks, without it being visible. The briquettes were not preserved. Ideal for decorating a large living room, or for installing an insert. Dimensions: see diagram
