Description

We offer this fantastic vintage Italian garden set from the 1970s circa. The set consists of a round table and 6 armchairs. This set is made of iron and lacquered in white, perfectly complementing the colors of a garden, discreetly yet elegantly. We'd like to highlight the elaborate curlicues and scrolls, especially on the backs of the armchairs, a unique decoration not found in all garden lounge sets. Consider adding a padded cushion to the armchairs to make the iron seating more comfortable. This garden set would be a fantastic addition to your home and a perfect companion for outdoor afternoons with your guests. Furthermore, the armchairs can be nested together when not in use, a valuable feature that will save you space in your storage room when you need to store your set during the winter. From a conservation standpoint, the set shows signs of wear on the lacquer consistent with its age and outdoor location (please carefully examine all the photos). This detail adds to the set's vintage charm, but you can re-lacquer the set if desired.
