Description

This armchair is designed by Richard Schultz and produced by Knoll International. It is part of the famous 1966 collection, a collection of outdoor furniture that the designer created in the 1960s at the request of Florence Knoll, who wanted a modernist and designer interpretation of outdoor furniture, particularly in the choice of materials. Here, cast aluminum, textile mesh and saddle-stitched leather straps. The design is very beautiful: tapered, light and well made. It is sold in good condition despite the slightly stretched seat and some undone seams (see photos).
