Description

This Prame boat is a rare 1950s mahogany boat. The blades are arranged by superposition and mounted in splints to make the hull watertight. This is a very beautiful naval craftsmanship, for this boat intended at the time to serve as a year for the dragons of the Arcachon Basin. The same ones who participated in the famous regattas. This two-tone and collector's Prame model is in good condition for: we have all the parts and will carry out the restoration at our expense before delivery.
