Description

This album, intended to guide drawing students in the mid-19th century, brings together prints engraved after great artists of the time (Victor Adam, Robert, Morel Fatio, and many others) known for the quality of their drawings. Covering a little of every subject, taken from various albums of this publisher, they require a good level of virtuosity to be reproduced (for this purpose the drawing is sometimes presented in a preparatory state). If the title page is pitted, the engravings printed on better paper are in very good condition. The album is bound in green cardboard, decorated with a cartridge of light and gilded leather.
