

Antler Pipe Made At The Early 19th Century Representing The Battle Of Jena

2 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Bone

Height : 41 cm (en diagonale)

Description

Beautiful antler pipe most likely depicting the Battle of Jena. The soldiers' uniforms suggest they were Prussian officers. Flower decoration on the heel. Silver mounting (lid and mouthpiece). The first part of the stem is attached to the pipe's bowl. The lollipop, decorated with pearl balls, is detached from the stem. Dimension: height 41 cm (diagonal). Austria-Hungary made at the early 19th century.

Dealer

Galerie DELALANDE

Marine & Sciences, Tobacco & Opium objects, Canes, Curiosa

Tel : 00 33 1 42 60 19 35

Mobile : 00 33 6 60 90 21 59

35 rue de Lille

Paris 75007