Description

Magnificent Art Deco period piece of furniture (late 1930s) made entirely of Amboyna burl. It opens with two doors on the sides that reveal adjustable shelves on wooden racks. In the center are five generously sized drawers. The handles and knobs are made of ivory. The top is covered with a black lacquered glass slab. It rests on a plinth base. This piece of furniture is fully disassembled, making it easy to deliver and transport. Amboyna burl is a magnificent wood species, and the lacquered varnish that covers this piece of furniture allows it to be showcased. It is in perfect condition.
