Caput Sanctae Tonsurae 18th Century

350 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Painted wood

Description

This is how he became immortal... To the great displeasure of his mother who did not like his friends or his hairstyle, rather punk for the time... If he had had another look, he would undoubtedly have gone unnoticed but his slight strabismus gives him a certain gentleness. Head of a monoxyle saint with glass eyes, the right one having suffered from I don't know what clumsiness, probably of Spanish origin. He took his name with him for eternity, his tonsure called Roman does not give us any more precision.
