Description

Corner cabinet from the South of France in painted faux marble and gilded wood, the central panel forms a door. The top has been previously restored, an element is missing from the plinth. It is a very decorative piece of furniture which adds charm to an interior. It must originally have belonged to the furniture of a chapel, but it has no religious elements. The gilding and the faux marble are in good condition. Work from the South of France, late 18th or early 19th century. Delivery at the buyer's expense.
