and served there until his death in January 1987. Tejima's works were part of the major traveling exhibition "Japanese Calligraphy" presented in 1955 in various European countries. He participated in the 4th Sao Paulo Biennial in 1957. Several of his works were presented at documenta II in 1959 in Kassel. The exhibition Yuhkei and his School was presented in Belgium in September 1969, in France in September 1975, in the United States in May 1982 and at the Palace of the Revolution in Beijing in May 1985. In March 1989, two years after his death, the Dokuritsu Shojindan organized a major retrospective (en) devoted to his work and in September 1997 an epitaph bearing the sho calligraphy of Yukei Tejimas was unveiled at Koyasan (Mount Koya) in Wakayama Prefecture.
