Description

Beautiful Spanish painting from the 19th century, this oil on canvas, period key frame, large molded baguette frame gilded with bright gold, a peaceful landscape of the end of the day on the Monastery with the opalescent sky of a sunset on a veiled sky. A river in a small rocky torrent flows at its feet and the vast and distant countryside is accentuated by the marine format (elongated) of the Work. A careful painting with a delicate touch, smoothed and detailed faith where the main facade with zenital light offers a point of reference for this intimate Work which augurs Impressionism, the one where the brain analyzes and interprets the colors and the form, an atmosphere emerges from this successful painting of the Spanish painter Doménico who signed it at the bottom right. A sincere and decorative Work
