Description

Superb sign for a farrier's workshop and rural forge, entirely made of wrought iron and cut by hand. This authentic piece, with just the right rusty patina, exudes the soul of the countryside of yesteryear, where the sound of the hammer punctuated the days in the heart of the villages. One can read, in letters still visible despite the time, the words: "FORGE ET MARÉCHALERIE - MACHINES AGRICOLES", around a large metal circle decorated with horseshoes, stylized agricultural tools and a central hub evoking the wheel of peasant work. The name LARZUL, cut into a lower plate, proudly signs the craftsman who exercised his know-how there. An anchor suspended by a chain completes the whole, symbol of solidity and connection to the land. A rare, decorative piece full of history, ideal for a
