Description

They still smell good, like in the sacristy of the college chapel where they have been sleeping since.... Since... no one knows. These two Gothic-style altar ornaments were used for solemn events.... Imagine, 14 candles, it's not every Sunday... They are made of brass, decorated with interlacing vine leaves. Placed back to back, or in a line; they still occupy nearly 120 cm of space... Very slender despite their venerable age, still firmly planted on their wide base of 17 cm in diameter.
