Description

This Impressionist-style landscape was created by a representative of the Polish school, Zbigniew Boleslawski (1924 Bydgoszcz - 1993 Grójec). Zbigniew Boleslawski was born on January 17, 1924 in Bydgoszcz. He spent his free time with the painter Wawrzyniec Choremalski, where he learned drawing and painting. In 1956, he moved to Grójec, where he painted his works from 1956 to 1993. Landscape was the main theme of Boleslawski's works. It is in landscape painting that we perceive the beauty created by the artist, in symbiosis with his sensual vision of the world, the experience of nature and our presence in it. He died on January 10, 1993 in Grójec.
Inscription: signed and dated illegibly lower right.
On the back of the stretcher, an old label bears the inscription in Polish: "Zakład Stolarski, Baczyk
