Description

Nice and interesting vase decorated with cherries in applications by Daum, circa 1922. Piece for amateur and collector, this rare vase with applications is a very beautiful work of glassmaker with this bubbled glass decorated with orange cherries in applications, hot-laid with a fine glass wire starting from a ring at the base of the neck. The whole is enhanced with a rotating thread at the base and one on the lip of the neck. Last piece sold, in the room at 1000 euros at the hammer, or more than 1250 net buyer (see last photo). 18 cm high, perfect condition, no loss to the glass wire (which is rare), well signed and referenced. True little art-deco jewel, rare model with rare glassmaking techniques! Very original!
