Description

Beautiful 19th-century Aubusson tapestry depicting an elegant countryside hunting scene. The composition features a gentleman hunter holding his rifle, accompanied by his loyal hunting dog who has just spotted a pheasant among the foliage. In the background stands a charming stone pavilion surrounded by lush trees and a tranquil river landscape. Woven in soft natural tones of green, beige, and brown, the scene is framed by a richly decorated floral border characteristic of Aubusson craftsmanship. The tapestry combines refined detail with balanced composition, creating a peaceful and timeless atmosphere. Finely handwoven in wool and silk, this piece showcases the exceptional quality and artistry of the Aubusson workshops. It is in good overall condition with a lovely aged
